KITCHEN CABINET MADE AT HOME.

Probably no truly domestic woman ever passes a kitchen cabinet, so perfect in its arrangements and so complete in details, without wishing she owned one, but the initial cost is, in most cases, prohibitive and she must do without.

Doing without the patented cabinet, however, does not mean that a woman need do without the convenience, for with a little ingenuity and work and slight expenses she may achieve at home the same results.

An ordinary kitchen table, but better yet, a pastry table, with four bins, drawer and kneading board, serves as the foundation. If the ordinary table is used, a shelf set under the top, about a foot from the floor, will serve admirably to hold two large flour canisters, one for white and for gray or entire white flour. In smaller canisters may be kept cornmeal and sugar, and there will be room also for the bread box. A series of shallow shelves, built above the table, against the wall, will hold any number of glass jars for dry groceries, spices, etc., and one may now purchase aluminum covers, which will hold a week's supply of sugar or cereal.

As many of these as can be afforded and as are required should be purchased and find their places on the lower shelf. Above these may be placed small jars for raisins, spices, etc., and all the ingredients needed for baking. The other shelves may hold mixing bowls, cups and the like, and at the side of the shelves should be screwed brass hooks to hold egg beater, can opener, mixing spoon and so forth. If the table top is covered with zinc, the cabinet will now be complete and ready for use, and will leave no longings for a more elaborate one. If one does not care to purchase the glass jars, fruit jars and jelly glasses may be used to hold the groceries. The little glass jars in which stick candy is sold, those used for patent medicines and many similar purposes, may all be utilized; as they accumulate in the house and serve the purpose admirably. The whole thing may be made up in an inexpensive manner, all depending upon the resources and ingenuity of the woman who has charge of the work.

COVERS FOR BRIDGE TABLES.

The woman who plays cards or who has friends who play, is interested in making linen covers for card tables. These may be hemstitched or scalloped and either initiated or numbered on one side of the corner so that the mark shows on top of the table, but yet is not in the way of the players. These initials or numbers are worked in hand embroidery, and often represent considerable labor. They should measure about three inches. On white linen the markings look better worked in white mercerized cotton, but on tan linen, which many people prefer because it does not spoil so readily, colored embroidery gives a most artistic finish. Shades of delft blue, greens and golden browns all show off well on the tan linen.

A pretty set prepared as a gift for a linen wedding anniversary consisted of four cloths marked one, two, three and four. The numbers were quite large and fat and were filled in entirely with French knots of a rather light delft blue, outlined round the edge with a darker thread. The cloths, which were tan, hemstitched, were folded into triangles, with the embroidered numbers in the apex. Put together in a box they formed a square (fitted into each other with the numbers toward the center), then they were held in place by delft ribbon, meeting in the center with a bow of many loops.

RESTORING VELVET.

Velvet is a material which is more or less in evidence in woman's dress, whether on the hat or some other garment. Frequently it becomes soiled from rain spots, and, if left alone the damage would be more easily corrected, but instead, the fatal mistake of trying to brush the water or snow off is made.

In case one is caught in the rain, simply shake the velvet and allow the water to evaporate. After it has thoroughly dried, the rain spots may be removed and its original luster readily restored by rubbing with a clean, damp piece of light or dark crepe, according to the color of the velvet.

Raisin Loaf.

Put one pound washed and cleaned raisins in a double boiler with three pints cold water; cook until tender, add sugar to taste and soak ten minutes longer. Strain off the syrup and keep hot. Put in one ounce of gelatine to soften after it has been added to cold water. Chop the raisins fine and mix with one and a half pounds of powdered macaroons, the well mixed and juice of one lemon, mint well and pack into a well buttered mold. Serve cold with whipped cream, flavored and sweetened to taste.

Raisin Vol-Au-Vent.

Make a large case of puff pastry. Whip up one pint of cream, add sugar and vanilla to taste. Put a layer of stewed chopped raisins in the case, then a layer of cream, then the rest of the raisins, and lastly heap the cream on top. Decorate with raisins and chopped nuts.

Raisin Cordial.

Soak raisins over night and cook until tender. Drain, cut the raisins into shreds; arrange on crisp lettuce leaves, sprinkle with nut meats and cover with cream dressing.

Raisin Cordial.

This is very good. Required: 1 pound of raisins, 1 pound of lump sugar, 1 quart of old whisky or gin, 1 ounce of ginger, two lemon rinds, an orange and adjuncts as below: Stone and cut up the raisins, which must be good; add the bruised ginger and the rinds of the fruit with the spirit; cork up and leave for a few weeks; then strain and add the sugar, which may be boiled with half a pint of water, just to dissolve it. Cork when cool and strain in another week, pressing the fruit well; filter before bottling.

Note—An inch of split vanilla pod may be used or a few allspice berries.

Veal Potpie With Potatoes.

Wash a knuckle or brisket of veal and put into a kettle with boiling water more than will cover it. Take off scum as it rises. When the meat is nearly tender, add 2 teaspoons of salt and 1-2 teaspoons of pepper and a tablespoon of butter. When the meat is almost cooked add 5 medium potatoes which have been peeled and cut into halves.

For the batter, take 3 cups of flour, 2 teaspoons of baking powder, a salt- spoon of salt and a cup of sweet milk. Drop this batter, a spoonful at a time, into the kettle with the meat. Then do not take the cover off for half an hour, or the batter will be flat. When done, take it out on a platter.

For the sauce, wet 2 teaspoons of flour with cold water. Rub until smooth and then stir into the gravy. Then put in another teaspoon of butter and cook until it thickens. Pour over the potpie and serve.

ROSE TRIMMED HATS

A striking hat simply constructed is sketched at the top. It is a white straw shape with roses and velvet loops.

The flat hat is a lilac straw with pink roses and black velvet ribbons. The remaining hat is covered with pleated blue silk, the bands and brim facing being of white chip. Pink flowers are used.

A WAY OUT

A Resident of Ogden Shows the Way. There's one effective way to relieve kidney backache. Liniment and plasters may relieve it.

But they seldom reach the cause. Backache is caused to suspect the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys. Ogden people back them up. Read a case of it. William Baker, carpenter, 626 27th St., Ogden, Utah, says: "I have not changed my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills during the past three years and recommend them as strongly as ever. Doan's Kidney Pills procured at McIntyre's Drug Store, have done me much good."

Mr. Baker is only one of many Ogden people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches or if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Baker had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Salt Lake, April 24.—Police pursuit of joy riders, in the habit of stealing automobiles with which to satisfy their speed longings, resulted finally in the arrest of three youths on charges of grand larceny last night. The catch was made by Motorcycle Patrolman W. H. Hendrickson. The young men admitted stealing several automobiles for joy riding. The charge placed against them was the theft of an automobile belonging to the Sparks-Elite Candy company last Sunday night. When found by the police early Monday morning, the car was found damaged to an extent estimated at $300.

The young men gave their names as Thomas Smith, 18 years of age, Harry Reeder, 19, and N. A. Gale, 17. Smith is a former inmate of the industrial school at Ogden, and the other two say that they are from a reformatory in Stockton, Cal.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist. As a specialist who has spent many years in the study of the stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach troubles possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the real difficulty, is a weakness in the stomach, usually due to, or aggravated by, food fermentation. Acid stomachs and food fermentation causes wind, which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bisulphated magnesia, which is the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your chemist for the bisulphated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.—Advertisement.

LAND CONTROVERSY IS FINALLY SETTLED

Salt Lake, April 24.—The controversy between John H. Rentz and Berne M. Mendenhall over a homestead of 160 acres located on the west side of Utah lake, near Pelican point, began in August, 1912, has been finally decided in favor of Mr. Mendenhall by the secretary of the Interior. A copy of the secretary's decision, sustaining the commissioner of the general land office in his reversal of the decision of the local register and recorder, who decided against Mendenhall, was received yesterday.

Mr. Mendenhall had entered upon the homestead in question before August 2, 1912, when Rentz filed a contest against the entry, asserting that Mendenhall had not lived on the claim the required six months out of the year, and had made no proper improvements and that his home was really Springville.

The case came to trial November 14, 1912, before E. D. R. Thompson, register, and Colonel M. M. Kaighn, receiver of the local federal land office. The testimony brought out that Mrs. Mendenhall had become very ill while residing on the homestead and had gone to her former home in Springville. Upon her illness becoming severe, her husband also left the claim and went to her side. In spite of these facts, the local office decided that Mendenhall had not fulfilled the provisions of the act, and the entry was cancelled and the contestant allowed to perfect his entry.

Mendenhall took an appeal to the commissioner of the general land office and on March 15, 1913, that official reversed the decision of the local land office. Rentz then appealed to the secretary of the Interior. The secretary's decision, giving the land to Mendenhall is the one received yesterday.

FOREST NOTES

Nearly 4000 acres were reforested in Montana and northern Idaho during 1913, at an average cost of $7.59 an acre.

The best forested area of China is in Manchuria. The principal tree varieties are pine, cedar, larch, fir, yew, oak, ash, elm, walnut and birch. Two forest officers, in Washington and Oregon, are writing popular descriptions of the trees on the Crater and Mt. Rainier national parks, for the use of visitors to the parks.

Gannett Peak, Wyo., nearly 14,000 feet in elevation, and the highest mountain in the state, is on the divide between the Bonneville and Bridger national forests.

In northern Arizona, Utah, Nevada, southern Idaho, and western Wyoming, the fires on national forests set by campers, have decreased in four years from nearly a third to approximately one-fifth. Lightning fires have increased from less than one-fourth to nearly one-half. The relatively larger proportion from lightning, however, is due partly to decrease in other causes.

GIVE TILLMAN SHADE OVER AD WOLGAST

Hudson, Wis., April 23.—Twin City newspaper men gave Johnny Tillman of Minneapolis a shade over Ad Wolgast in a ten-round bout here tonight. Five rounds were in the even class and the other five were credited to Tillman.

From the start the fighting was fast. Tillman drew blood from the bearcat's nose in the third and from that time on used his long left effectively.

Wolgast after the fourth appeared to be trying to land a blow for the count, but could not. Tillman, on the other hand, kept peppering at Ad's head and rushed the Michigan boy to the ropes a number of times.
